

WINEMAKERS'S NOTE

The intention of this wine is to express the virtues of the Tinto Fino variety, which are elegance, finesse and a long ageing period. The Tinto Fino is a classic clone of the Tempranillo variety grown in Ribera del Duero. This is a great red wine aged following the times of a Ribera del Duero. It is a mature and delicious wine.

Jaime Suárez, winemaker Ismael Sanz, vineyard manager

PRODUCTION: 80,000 bottles 0,75l | 2,000 bottles 1,5 L

GRAPE VARIETY: 100% Tempranillo

AGEING: 12-14 months in French oak barrels (30% of new barrel)

ALCOHOL: 14,5% Vol.

Total acidity: 4,94 G/l (tartárico) · Residual sugar 1.6 g/L.

WINEMAKING: Fermentation is carried out in stainless-steel vats at a controlled temperature between 26-28 °C to preserve the fruit's potential. The malolactic fermentation takes place in the vat and it is aged in barrels for 12 months.

TASTING NOTE: This is a great wine from Ribera del Duero, complete and ripe. Intense, elegant and lively. Red and black cherry in colour, with a fresh nose reminiscent of stone fruit. As it develops, balsamic tones with hints of liquorice appear. In mouth it is impressive and balanced, with a long and tasty step of mouth, appearing again the fruit already more mature. The wood brings seriousness and complexity. For the good harmony of its components, makes us foresee a perfect maturation in the coming years.

VINEYARDS

Average age: 60- 80 years

Alt. from sea level: 980- 1050 m

SOIL: Sandy loam on the surface with calcareous clays at different depths and pebbles.

CLIMATE: Continental with a Mediterranean influence and with very long and cold winters and short and hot summers.

CHARACTERISTICS OF THE VINTAGE: 2018 is a vintage marked by the intense frosts at the end of April, which considerably reduced the production of the Ribera del Duero. Even so, the vineyard was able to rebuild and bring the few bunches to great maturity, resulting in a very fresh Celestina with great tension and a more subtle mouth.

THE WINERY

ATALAYAS DE GOLBÁN IS BORN IN 2004 in the village of Atauta, at 7 km away from San Esteban de Gormaz, next to Dominio de Atauta. The grapes used to make this wine are grown not only in the Valley of Atauta but also in the region of San Esteban de Gormaz, and these wines have a strong Ribera del Duero influence.

